A Man Stabbed.

About 7 o'clock last evening. Dennis O. Hanlan, a steward in the National Hotel, went into the pawn-broking establishment of Isaac Herzberg, on C street, near Sixth, and used insulting language to the wife of the proprietor. Mr. and Mrs. Herzberg requested him to leave the house, which he refused to do, and Mr. Herzberg went out after the police to take him away; but while he was absent, Hanlan still continuing his abusive language, Mrs. Herzberg sttempted to push him out, when he assaulted her, and she retailated by stabbing him several times in the back and through his arm with a sword.

Officer Fenwick arrested Handan and took him to the guardbouse, where it was found that he had been stabbed. He was very much intexicated, so much so as to be unconscious of having been injured. After it was found that he had been wounded, he was sent to his home. Mrs. Herzberg was arrested by Officer Allen and taken before Justice Walter, at the guardbouse, who, after a partial hearing of the case, held her to bail in the sum of three thousand dollars for a further examination.

An Effetent Officer.

An Effectent Officer.

A Frenchman, named Adolph Grosman, was arrested by officer Grant, yesterday afternoon, and taken before Justice Donn, where he was charged with stealing a cow belonging to Mr. C. D. Welsh. He was committed to jail by the Justice, and the officer started with his prisoner, but, as he was passing up Louisiana avenue, on his way there, the officer discovered that the gauze around a chandelier, in the parior of a boarding-house opposite the City Hall, had taken fire. He immediately ran into the house, dragging his prisoner with him, and was not long in turning off the gas and extinguishing the flames. While thus engaged, the prisoner broke away from him and ran through Judiciary Square, but the officer overtook him near the old Trinity Church, and got him safely to jail.

A man named Daniel McTanney was arrested by one of the county patrolmen yesterday afternoon, on the charge of illegally attempting to arrest a man named Robert Johnson, com-mitting an assault and battery on him, endeav-oring to pass a counterfest note, and with hav-ing a forged pass. He was taken before Jus-tice Donn, who committed him to jail for a fur-ther examination.

District Attorney Carrington here announced, in appropriate terms, the death of Mr. John A. Linten, a member of the bar of this city, and moved that the court do now adjourn in respect to his memory; and the court thereupon adjourned until to-day.

Attempts to Pass Bad Money.

Attempts to Pass Bad Money.

Night before last Patrolman Walling arrested Thes. Jones for attempting, upon two occasions, to pass a note for five doilars, upon a broken bank of Havre de Grace, Md. He was taken before Justice Donn. Upon the Justice sending for a witness who knew of the first attempt, a companion of Jones's, who had accompanied him to the office, suddenly left. Roundsman Cronin, suspecting that he, too, might be implicated, started after him and arrested him. He gave his name as Isaac Burke. The evidence of witnesses and admissions of themselves showed that they were together in both transactions. They were sent to jail.

Deaths of Soldiers.

The following soldiers died yesterday: Private Knight, company D, First Pennsylvania cavalry, at camp.

James Glass and Harry Hobaugh, company
C, Frst Pennsylvania reserve, at Camp Pier-

Corwin, First New Jersey cavalry, at W. Surgis, company E, Long Island volun-teers, and D. T. McLatchen, company D, Four-teenth New York, at the Seminary.

Columbian Armory.

A large force of boys has been employed at this building for some time past, making and dling cartridges, &c. This week, the boys were all discharged, and females employed. Many of the ladies employed here have been hereto force engaged in writing for the Departments, but the demand for their services no longer exists there.

Death of a Well-known Citizen. Mr. Michael Carroll, quarterman in the plumber's department of the navy yard, died suddenly at his residence, near the Marine Barracks, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Carroll was an exemplary member of the Methodist Church, having joined the Ebenezer some thirty five years since, under the ministrations of the late Rev. Yelverton Brown. He has been employed in the yard for more than forty years past.

Charge of Horse Stealing.

Dectective officer Allen arrested a man named R. Vanvalkenburg, night before last, on suspicion of stealing a horse from Mr. Hoffmire, of New York. He was taken before Justice Donn, who held him for a further hearing. Charles Wilson was also arrested by the same officer, yesterday atternoon, on the charge of being concerned with Yauvalkenburg. Justice Donn held him to security for a hearing on Friday next.

This establishment will open on Monday next, with a first class troupe of artistes, amongst whom are James Melville, the Australian rider; Dan. Gardiner, the clown; Mad'lle Camille, Philo Nathans, Mad'lle Marie, Frank Whittaker, H. W. Penney, A. F. Jones, Ferdinand Tournaire, Miss Virginia, and La Petite Eloise. The entertainments are to be of a refined character, in every way calculated to please an intellectual people who delight in equestrian sports and the exciting games of the curvoulum. The location is an eligible one—the site of the old National Theatre. We predict for the Circus a triumphant season.

Appointed.

Among the newly-appointed lieutenants of the regular army is George W. Hoover, of this city, (brother of ex-Marshal Hoover,) who has been assigned to the Fourteenth infantry, now stationed at Perryville, Md.

Information was received here yesterday that Henry Arnold, formerly of the sixth ware of this city, died at Manassas Junction a few weeks since, from wounds received in a skir mish near Munson's Hill a short time pre-

FOUR HUNDRED REBELS DISPERSED.

Something about senator Henjamin.

Mr. Benjamin, of Louisiana, when he left this city in February last, says the New York Express, transferred the house which he had been occupying, to the Secretaries of the Fronch Legation. The owner of the house, Major McBlair, a paymaster of the army, has not been able to collect his rent since February, as the French gentlemen contended that they held the property under a lease from Benjamin. After sandry vexatious delays, arising from the immunity from arrest, by which the members of the diplomatic corps are protected. Major McBlair has recently been enabled, through the action of the French Minister, to obtain possession of the house. He has also seized the effects of Mr. Benjamin, to the value of several hundreds of dollars, and Tuesday they were soled at auction. Among these effects were several portraits of Mrs. Benjamin, a marble bust of Benjamin himself, and strange to tell, a full length portrait of Mons. Cellini, the person with whom Mrs. Benjamin doped from New Orleans several years ago! There was also an elegant service of plate, and some articles of household furniture. The principal portion of Mr. Benjamin's furniture was sold in May, 1860, when Mrs. B. returned to Paris. It was the most superly collection aver sold in this city, having cost $30,000 in Paris, to which, for packing and transportation, four or five thous and dollars must be added to cover its whole cost here. The house occupied by Benjamin was the well known mansion erected by Commodore Decatur in 1819, a few months before his death, at an expense of $20,000. The whole rent of the property is $3,000 a year.

Meeting of Army Chaplains. FOUR HUNDRED REBELS DISPERSED.

Jefferson City, Oct. 29.—A special dispatch to the St. Louis Republican says:

Gen. Prentiss, who left St. Louis on Monday last, with a force of infantry, to surprise and capture the rebels at Fulton, in Calloway county, has returned, and reports that before he reached Fulton, Gen. John R. Hendersen, of the State militia, had made a compromise with the rebels at Dyer's mills, near Concord, by which he agreed that the United States would not make any arrests if the rebels would lay down their arms and return to their homes. Gen. Prentiss acquieaced in the compromise, but on the first violation of it will visit severe vengeance upon the offenders.

The rebels were 400 strong, and Gen. Henderson's force numbered 1,500. The proposition for compromise came from the rebels.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Baltimore, October 31, 1861.—The Old Point boat has arrived, bringing the following news: Fortress Monroe, October 30, 1861.—The destination of the fleet is known at Old Point, and it can be safely revealed by Saturday next. The army chaplains held another meeting in Frinity Church on Wednesday morning. The principal object appeared to be the concentration of their efforts so as to procure the passage of a law more clearly defining their position and rank, their relations to other officers, and the uniform they should wear. The law now prescribes that they shall have the pay of captains of cavairy, but does not designate their uniform. It was finally determined to present this matter to the President and the proper military authorities, through a committee, and to agree upon what action it is necessary Congress shall take in order to remedy the evils complained of.

the Attorney General has doubts of its propried that the Attorney General has doubts of its propriety, and thinks it may excite litigation after the settlement of our present difficulties.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Tribune. A CLEAR CASE OF FRAUD.—It is related by one of the dispatches from the battle field at Edwards's Ferry, that when our brave boys were trying to make their way from the trap into which they had been foolishly led, back across the Potomac, a poor negro with a small skiff employed himself the whole night in ferrying over the fugitives. He succeeded, in this way, in saving the lives, or in securing the escape, at least, of no less than one hundred persons. His master all the while was probably on the Virginia shore trying to send a Minie ball into the hearts of our men.

Now, as the "service" of this fellow did not belong to himself, but his master, what right had he to lend his labor to our suffering shidiers? Was he not defrauding his owner? Will not some of our generals insist upon "delivering him up," to be properly pumished for so audacious a use of his muscles? Of course, no one will be so insune as to propose that he should be emancipated for this timely rescue of so many loyal troops. That would be abelitionism; that would be interfering with the sacred institution; that would be confessing thet negroes are men and entitled to a decent respect.—Exeming Post.
